Special judge rules in shooting range suit

Owners fined $209,625

BY BOB DEMAREE

A Jefferson County property owner has been fined more than $200,000 after a special judge ruled in Jefferson Circuit Court that a shooting range had been operated in violation of the Jefferson County Zoning Ordinance.

Special Judge Sally A. McLaughlin ruled Monday that Joseph and Sherry Chapo, and their Deputy Big Shot shooting range, had continued to operate in violation of the county's zoning ordinance after the county's Board of Zoning Appeals denied a conditional use permit to allow the range to operate in an are zoned Agricultural.

In 2016, the Jefferson County Plan Commission filed a complaint that the Chapos had violated a lawful zoning ordinance by initiating and operating a shooting range on their property. Since then, there have been several appeals continuing through the final judgment issued by McLaughlin, who is also a Dearborn County Superior Court Judge.

RYKERS' RIDGE ELEMENTARY SCHOOL

Board approves $113K in upgrades to playground

BY BOB DEMAREE

Rykers' Ridge Elementary School will be getting $113,000 in new playground equipment after the purchase was approved by the Madison Consolidated Schools board of trustees at their meeting on Wednesday.

The equipment will be purchased from Kinetic Recreation for $113,618.95, and replaces what Rykers' Ridge Principal Jill Mires said has been at the school since 2007 with some even older than that.

"It's a refresh and update, and we're excited about it," said Mires, who expects the equipment to be installed over the summer and in place when students begin school in the fall of this year. "It's going to be great."

Kevin Yancey, director of facilities and special projects for Madison Consolidated Schools, said the playground will have several components including slides and monkey bars, and will also be handicap accessible.

Mires said it will be "awesome" to have equipment that handicapped children can use.

"When you see a kid with a smile on the face, that's what it's all about," Yancey said.

Yancey said a commitment has been made to maintain playground equipment throughout the school corporation. For example, one year ago out-dated playground equipment was replaced at Deputy Elementary, which is part of an ongoing effort toward safer, more accessible playground equipment throughout the school corporation.

In other upgrades, the board approved $49,687 to purchase a pole barn from Gosman Inc. to house an indoor batting cage for the softball program.

BZA OKs cell tower, meat processing plant

BY BOB DEMAREE

Jefferson County's Board of Zoning Appeals approved a conditional use application to allow a cell tower in Lancaster Township at its meeting on Tuesday' but not before arguments by representatives of both AT&T Communications and SBA Communications.

The application was to construction the cell tower at 7386 North State Road 7, Madison, located in Lancaster Township between Midway and Dupont on property owned by Jeff Frazier and Drew Frazier. AT&T currently rents space off an existing nearby SBA Communications tower, but wants its own tower.

"(SBA) is a competing cell tower company that on a nationwide basis has been showing up at hearings like this when a new tower is proposed that would be much less expensive, much less onerous, saving millions of dollars for the people in an attempt to keep those new towers from being constructed."

— David Pike
Pike Legal Group PLLC, representing AT&T

Approval was given for conditional use of the relay towers and transmitting stations, but the project might also need a variance if the facility is unable to meet the county's 30 foot access requirement and 90 foot from the center of road or 50 foot from the right of way— whichever is greater — requirement.

David Pike of Pike Legal Group PLLC, representing AT&T, said SBA "is a competing cell tower company that on a nationwide basis has been showing up at hearings like this when a new tower is proposed that would be much less expensive, much less onerous, saving millions of dollars for the people in an attempt to keep those new towers from being constructed." He said the new AT&T tower would be one-quarter of a mile from the existing SBA tower, and would provide upgraded cell service along State Road 7 with better coverage.

As Pike outlined in detail the financial burden on AT&T for continuing to pay for usage of the existing SBA tower, BZA Chairman David Ferguson asked board attorney Patrick Magrath "if we need to

BZA OKs plan for Dupont playground

BY BOB DEMAREE

Efforts to develop a park in Dupont took a step forward Tuesday when the Jefferson County Board of Zoning Appeals approved conditional use for a playground on property located at 10495 North West Front Street.

Robyn Meek, the Dupont town clerk-treasurer, said a group of local mothers have been working together to develop the playground inside the town on the east side of State Road 7.

There is playground equipment on the property of the former Dupont Elementary School but Meek said the mothers "don't like their kids crossing the highway (State Road 7) to go to the school, and that playground at the school is getting in really bad shape. It's really old at this point, and it's broken down."

Dupont Elementary School was closed by Madison Consolidated Schools about a decade ago, and Meek estimated that the playground equipment has been there for 30 years, and has deteriorated to the point that it's become a safety hazard.

The location for the proposed playground will be on property next to the town office building at 10525 North West Front Street that was the former Dupont State Bank. The bank, which had been on that location since 1910, was purchased by River Valley Bank in 2013. In 2016, German American Bank acquired River Valley Bank, and the building remained a bank until German American closed that branch in January of 2020. German American then donated the property to the town, and the town has had ownership since June 9, 2020.

With the vacant lot located next to the town building, the three-member Dupont town board agreed that the site would work well for the playground. A playground committee has been formed, and fundraising began last month with a fish fry and this month with a Valentine's Day Date Night raffle. Meek said the playground committee is also seeking grant funding.

UPGRADES

Long-time Lady Cub softball advocate and assistant coach Michael Peak was on hand to thank the school corporation for its support and improvements to softball facilities over the last 20 years.

Madison's fast pitch softball program will achieve its 40th year of existence next year. It began in 1984 with Luanne McCammon serving as the first head coach after the Indiana High School Athletic Association sanctioned the sport. The Lady Cubs originally played at Rucker Sports Complex, even hosting the sectional and regional there in the early years.

In 2002, Peak said the groundwork was laid for a field at the high school. "We had a lot of great people to help in a lot of different phases of that field," he said. Peak said the indoor batting cage was the "finishing touch to this field of dreams of mine" that Madison softball would have the kind facility that now exists.

In other business:

• MCS Superintendent Dr. Teresa Brown said the technology team that was hired at the January board meeting is now all on staff, and she's been impressed with what has already been accomplished in just a couple of weeks.

"They have hit the ground running, and have already saved us over $12,000 in several finds, and better WiFi," she said.

The board took action to approve ENA (Education Networks of America) as the e-rate provider for 2 gigabits per second service, which technology director Josh Taylor said will double the bandwidth and should improve Internet speeds in the schools.

• Approved an application seeking funds from the 2024 Impact Aid Section 7002 Grant, which compensates school districts containing federally owned land like at Jefferson Proving Ground in an attempt to supplement lost property tax dollars. In 2021, the school corporation received $69,732, and in 2022, the amount was $62,759. This year's amount won't be known until later this summer.

• Approved the purchase of a 2023 Chevrolet Equinox LT, a mid-size vehicle with all-wheel drive from Chandler Chevrolet for $30,385.25, to be used by the transportation department for professional development and during inclement weather.

• Hired Benjamin Ratcliff as math teacher at Madison Consolidated High School. Additionally, Aliana Wilson and Alexis Ricketts were hired as co-head girls varsity tennis coaches, and Randy Staggs was hired as head boys volleyball coach.

• Approved resolutions allowing transfers for appropriation adjustments in individual accounts. Additionally, a resolution was approved that allows transfers monthly from the education fund to the operations fund to reimburse the operations fund for expense that are not allowed in student instruction on learning.

• Due to changes in the National School Lunch and Breakfast Program and federal reimbursement for school lunches, anyone purchasing an additional meal will pay $4.60 per lunch and $2.70 for breakfasts in both the elementary and secondary cafeterias. While first meals are reimbursable, second meals are not and their cost must be sufficient to cover the full cost of the meals.

• Approved curriculum additions provided by the Children's Advocacy Center of Southeastern Indiana that offer instruction on child abuse and child sexual abuse — Child Safety Matters and Teen Safety Matters. Additionally, approved the addition of a Career Exploration Internship and a Quantitative Reasoning class to the MCHS curriculum.

• Approved a memorandum of understanding with River Valley Resources Inc. to deliver adult basic education services at Madison Consolidated High School.

• Approved revising and combining the Title I Compliance and Instructional Specialist position and the Pre-School Coordinator position into one position that is now the Director of Curriculum, Instruction and Assessment.

JUDGE

The fine imposed on the Chapos is based on a fine of $2,500 daily over 559 days between April 6, 2016, the date of the plan commission's order of enforcement to discontinue use of the property for a shooting range, and Oct. 17, 2017, the date of the Court's order finding the defendants in contempt of Court. Based on that, the total potential fine was $1,397,500, but McLaughlin set the fine at 15%, which is $209,625. Additionally, the plaintiff's were awarded $27,490.78 in attorney fees.

The ruling in the lawsuit was discussed at Tuesday's Plan Commission meeting. The commissioners also conducted other business including:

• Met with three property owners who appeared at the meeting concerning nuisance issues at their properties. Commission President Warren Auxier said all have expressed they will work to make an effort to clean those properties up.

"We're going to work with them a few months and see how it turns out," Auxier said.

One other property owner, Donnie Stewart, was not there. "We've been trying to work with him for quite some time, and haven't got much results." So, court action will filed to pursue compliance.

• Heard a report that the final draft of a new Jefferson County Unified Development Ordinance has now been posted on the Jefferson County Government website with a public hearing tentatively scheduled for Tuesday, March 7.

BZA

hear all of this" because the BZA's decisions are based on meeting standards in the county zoning ordinance, and not financial concerns.

Magrath noted that Pike was putting forth the case in regard to "Indiana code related to cell tower implementation," and relaying what can and cannot be considered in anticipation of a counter argument to be made by the SBA representative.

Pike said AT&T believes in competition, and SBA doesn't want that. "What they want is to be the only provider of tower services in this area, and to prevent someone who does a better job, a faster job and much, much cheaper job from entering the market ... We're committed to this community and we want to do a better job but we can't do that if we're diverting funds in ways that don't meet good business practices."

Chris Zelli of the law firm Dinsmore and Shohl LLP, representing SBA, said AT&T is "a very wealthy cell provider" that is claiming a tower land owner is causing an economic burden, but he said the proposed new AT&T tower doesn't meet the Indiana code that establishes the need for it. "There's no specific evidence that was presented in the application to warrant the existence of the proposed tower," with the already existing SBA tower one-quarter mile away. He said Indiana code on co-location requires that for a new tower to be approved, it must provide evidence that co-location on an existing structure is not a viable option. In this case, AT&T is citing economic burden, and Zelli said there's no evidence of that.

Zelli also cited the county's zoning requirements that needed to be addressed, which resulted in the BZA establishing the conditions that were included in the approval, which Pike expressed that AT&T will comply.

In another matter, the BZA granted approval of conditional use for agricultural processing to Mark Whitehead for property at 3460 North Spry Road, Deputy, in Graham Township with the stipulation that if there is any expansion he must come back to the BZA for another approval.

Whitehead said he wants to have a cattle processing plant that will be 120 feet off the road at an existing facility. "My goal is to help people with the demand of getting beef processed" with plans to have it USDA inspected while utilizing all waste management procedures with a holding tank. He said there will be 15 foot x 45 foot walk-in cooler and a 15 foot x 20 foot freezer to store beef and keep it refrigerated in an effort to reduce any odors.

Whitehead said the proposal includes an office with handicap parking. "We're trying to create a few jobs for the community," he said. "We basically want to be at maximum 15 to 20 beef every two weeks."

Chip Stitsworth voiced concern about the potential odor that might come from the processing facility. "I love getting more jobs around here, but I don't want the smell and I live right up the road," Stitsworth said.

Whitehead said the facility will be designed so that on "kill day the stuff will be picked up that day, and beef that is being processed will be in a refrigerator 30 degrees or below, so there won't be waste laying outside." He also said there are no plans to keep animals on site. Animals will come in for processing and then be gone. Whitehead added that the operation will be state and federally inspected, and "keep everything clean and proper."

Sherry Chapo, another neighbor, said she has no problem with the operation as proposed but that future expansion could be an issue and should require additional approval.

"I have no problem with what he's proposing to do. Everything's good within limitations," Chapo said, adding the application should be "limited to what he's asking for now, and then if he grows, then he would have to come back, and ask for permission to grow it past that point. If he's doing everything right, then nobody's going to complain."

Brooke Breshelle Demaree, 50, of Madison, Indiana, died unexpectedly on Sunday, Feb. 5, 2023, at her home in Madison.

She was born on June 25, 1972, in Madison, to Jack R. and Sandra Darbro Demaree. She was a lifelong resident of Jefferson County, Indiana, and graduated from Madison Consolidated High School in 1991. Before graduating from high school she married Robert "Rob" Foley and they ran the Indian Trails Restaurant in Canaan, Indiana. She was diagnosed with diabetes at age 12, which eventually led to her losing her sight and having a kidney transplant. She worked for Madison Apothecary as a cook and she later worked at River Valley Resources Inc., Work One, and Lowe's Home Improvement. She was passionate about helping others and counseled those whom shared similar disabilities. She remained productive despite having to go back on kidney dialysis and made wreaths, rugs, and her famous "Suds in a Bucket." With help from her service dog, Roscoe, she accomplished many things. She was a member of the Madison VFW Post No. 1969 Auxiliary, and a Baptist.

Survivors include her father and his companion, Sheila Curl, of Vevay, Indiana; her sisters, Mandy Demaree and Jackie Demaree James, both of Madison; and two nephews, Tanner Jones and Brandon Demaree, a great niece and several aunts, uncles and other relatives.

She was preceded in death by her mother on Feb. 11, 2011; her grandparents, Graham and Helen Demaree and Harold and Geneva Darbro, two uncles, a niece and her service dog and companion, Roscoe.

Funeral services will be at 11 a.m. on Tuesday, Feb. 14, at the Macedonia Baptist Church near Moorefield, Indiana. Interment will follow in the Macedonia Cemetery near Moorefield. Visitation is 4 p.m. to 7 p.m. on Monday at the Morgan & Nay Funeral Centre in Madison and 10 a.m. until the time of services on Tuesday at the church. Family and friends may gather at the Madison VFW Post No. 1969 in Madison after the interment for a time of fellowship in memory of Brooke.

Let Us Pause To Honor the Memory of
Mrs. Donna M. Drossart

Donna Drossart, age 89, of Joplin, MO passed away February 8, 2023. She was born January 19, 1934 in Sturgis, MI to Donald and Lela (Martin) McIntyre. Preceding in death was her beloved husband of 25 years, John Drossart, and son, Ray Drossart. She is survived by daughter, Terri (Chris) Hoogeveen of Las Vegas, NV and son, Steve (Stephanie) Drossart of Hanover, IN. She was loved by her dear grandchildren Brittany (Jonah) Sullivan, Steve (Monica) Drossart Jr., Conor Hoogeveen, Mac Hoogeveen, Alexandria (Austin) Bruce, and Joseph Drossart and great grandchildren Brooklynn and Ben Sullivan. Donna grew up in Bronson, MI. Her family gas station was the center of all activity. Her childhood was an idyllic time in her life, which she recalled fondly. She graduated from Bronson High School in 1952, where she was known for her fun loving personality. She attended Western Michigan University but was a huge University of Michigan fan and made that known cheering "Go Blue" wherever she went. After graduating with a degree, she began working in Washington D.C. with the Navy Department. After meeting the love of her life, she raised her family in Plymouth, MI and Dyer, IN where lifelong friends were made. Upon retirement she moved to Joplin, MO where she was a faithful member of St. Paul's United Methodist Church. She was devoted to serving on the kitchen team. She was a lifelong member of the Beta Sigma Phi Sorority. She was an avid walker, a member of the Dogwood Trailblazers AVA Walking Group. One of her personal achievements was walking all 50 states and capitals. She loved to travel the world and made friends wherever she went. She enjoyed a good Manhattan, watching football, playing games, and being surrounded by family and friends.

GRAVESIDE CEREMONY

Graveside services will be conducted Friday, June 9, 2023, at 2:00 p.m., at the Bronson Cemetery in Bronson, Michigan with interment to follow.

MEMORIAL EXPRESSIONS

Memorial contributions may be made to Our Hospice Inpatient Facility, 2626 17th Street in Columbus, Indiana 47201 where excellent care was provided to Donna and family during her last days. Cards are available at the Morgan & Nay Funeral Centres of Madison and Hanover. Online condolences, remembrances, and memorials can be left at www.morgan-nay.com

TODAY IN HISTORY

Today is Saturday, Feb. 11, the 42nd day of 2023. There are 329 days left in the year.

Today's Highlight in History:

On Feb. 11, 1945, President Franklin D. Roosevelt, British Prime Minister Winston Churchill and Soviet leader Josef Stalin signed the Yalta Agreement, in which Stalin agreed to declare war against Imperial Japan following Nazi Germany's capitulation.

On this date:

In 660 B.C., tradition holds that Japan was founded as Jimmu ascended the throne as the country's first emperor.

In 1847, American inventor Thomas Alva Edison was born in Milan, Ohio.

In 1937, a six-week-old sit-down strike against General Motors ended, with the company agreeing to recognize the United Automobile Workers Union.

In 1963, American author and poet Sylvia Plath was found dead in her London flat, a suicide; she was 30.

In 1975, Margaret Thatcher was elected leader of Britain's opposition Conservative Party.

In 1979, followers of Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini (hoh-MAY'-nee) seized power in Iran.

In 1990, South African Black activist Nelson Mandela was freed after 27 years in captivity.

In 2006, Vice President Dick Cheney accidentally shot and wounded Harry Whittington, a companion during a weekend quail-hunting trip in Texas.

In 2008, the Pentagon charged Khalid Sheikh Mohammed and five other detainees at Guantanamo Bay with murder and war crimes in connection with the Sept. 11 attacks.

In 2011, Egypt exploded with joy after pro-democracy protesters brought down President Hosni Mubarak, whose resignation ended three decades of authoritarian rule.

In 2020, the World Health Organization gave the official name of COVID-19 to the disease caused by the coronavirus that had emerged in the Chinese city of Wuhan.

Ten years ago: With a few words in Latin, Pope Benedict XVI did what no pope had done in more than half a millennium: announced his resignation. The bombshell came during a routine morning meeting of Vatican cardinals. (The 85-year-old pontiff was succeeded by Pope Francis.)

Five years ago: A Russian passenger plane crashed into a snowy field six minutes after taking off from Moscow, killing all 65 passengers and six crew members; investigators would blame human error, saying the pilots had received flawed air speed readings after failing to turn on a heating unit for the measurement equipment. Amid swirling winds, 17-year-old snowboarder Red Gerard won the United States' first gold medal of the 2018 Winter Olympics in South Korea, capturing the men's slopestyle event. Singer Vic Damone, who possessed what Frank Sinatra once called "the best pipes in the business," died in Florida at the age of 89.

One year ago: President Joe Biden called on President Vladimir Putin to pull back more than 100,000 Russian troops massed near Ukraine's borders and warned that the U.S. and its allies would "respond decisively and impose swift and severe costs" if Russia invades. A tense standoff at a key U.S.-Canadian border bridge eased as protesters opposed to COVID-19 restrictions withdrew their vehicles.

Today's birthdays: Gospel singer Jimmy Carter is 91. Actor Tina Louise is 89. Fashion designer Mary Quant is 89. Bandleader Sergio Mendes is 82. Actor Philip Anglim is 71. Former Florida Gov. Jeb Bush is 70. Actor Catherine Hickland is 67. Rock musician David Uosikkinen (The Hooters) is 67. Actor Carey Lowell is 62. Singer Sheryl Crow is 61. Former Alaska Gov. Sarah Palin is 59. TODAY IN HISTORY

Today is Monday, Feb. 13, the 44th day of 2023. There are 327 days left in the year.

Today's Highlight in History:

On Feb. 13, 1935, a jury in Flemington, New Jersey, found Bruno Richard Hauptmann guilty of first-degree murder in the kidnap-slaying of Charles A. Lindbergh Jr., the 20-month-old son of Charles and Anne Lindbergh. (Hauptmann was later executed.)

On this date:

In 1633, Italian astronomer Galileo Galilei arrived in Rome for trial before the Inquisition, accused of defending Copernican theory that the Earth revolved around the sun instead of the other way around. (Galileo was found vehemently suspect of heresy and ended up being sentenced to a form of house arrest.)

In 1933, the Warsaw Convention, governing airlines' liability for international carriage of persons, luggage and goods, went into effect.

In 1939, Justice Louis D. Brandeis retired from the U.S. Supreme Court. (He was succeeded by William O. Douglas.)

In 1972, "Cabaret," directed by Bob Fosse, based on John Kander and Fred Ebb's musical of the same name, starring Liza Minnelli and Michael York, was released.

In 1980, the 13th Winter Olympics opened in Lake Placid, New York.

In 1991, during Operation Desert Storm, allied warplanes destroyed an underground shelter in Baghdad that had been identified as a military command center; Iraqi officials said 500 civilians were killed.

In 1996, the rock musical "Rent," by Jonathan Larson, opened off-Broadway less than three weeks after Larson's death.

In 2000, Charles Schulz's final "Peanuts" strip ran in Sunday newspapers, the day after the cartoonist died in his sleep at his California home at age 77.

In 2002, John Walker Lindh pleaded not guilty in federal court in Alexandria, Virginia, to conspiring to kill Americans and supporting the Taliban and terrorist organizations. (Lindh later pleaded guilty to lesser offenses and was sentenced to 20 years in prison. He was released in September 2019 after serving 17 years of that sentence.)

In 2011, Egypt's military leaders dissolved parliament, suspended the constitution and promised elections in moves cautiously welcomed by protesters who'd helped topple President Hosni Mubarak.

In 2016, Justice Antonin Scalia, the influential conservative and most provocative member of the U.S. Supreme Court, was found dead at a private residence in the Big Bend area of West Texas; he was 79.

Ten years ago: Beginning a long farewell to his flock, a weary Pope Benedict XVI celebrated his final public Mass as pontiff, presiding over Ash Wednesday services inside St. Peter's Basilica at the Vatican.

Five years ago: President Donald Trump's personal attorney, Michael Cohen, said he had paid $130,000 out of his own pocket to a porn actress who claimed to have had a sexual relationship with Trump. Ahmad Khan Rahimi was sentenced in New York to multiple terms of life in prison for setting off small bombs in New York and New Jersey; the attacks in September, 2016, left 30 people injured.

One year ago: Airlines canceled flights to the Ukrainian capital and troops there unloaded fresh shipments of weapons from NATO members, as the country's president Volodymyr Zelenskyy sought to project confidence in the face of U.S. warnings of possible invasion within days by a growing number of Russian forces.

Today's birthdays: Actor Kim Novak is 90. Actor Bo Svenson is 82. Actor Stockard Channing is 79. Talk show host Jerry Springer is 79. Sen. Richard Blumenthal, D-Conn., is 77. Singer Peter Gabriel is 73. Actor David Naughton is 72. Rock musician Peter Hook is 67. Actor Matt Salinger is 63. Singer Henry Rollins is 62. Actor Neal McDonough is 57. Singer Freedom Williams is 57. Rock singer Matt Berninger (The National) is 52. Country musician Scott Thomas (Parmalee) is 50. Singer Robbie Williams is 49. Singer-songwriter Feist is 47. R&B performer Natalie Stewart is 44. Actor Mena Suvari is 44. Actor Katie Volding is 34. Michael Joseph Jackson Jr. (also known as Prince Michael Jackson I) is 26.

Madison Parks Board adopts annual fee for senior citizens

BY BOB DEMAREE

Madison Parks Board on Monday approved a $25 annual fee for senior citizens using the Brown Gym for exercise classes and walking.

Senior exercise classes at Brown Gym were previously free while all other programs in the parks system — youth, adult and even senior walking at Brown previously — carried a usage fee. Parks board President

Carla Krebs said the $25 fee now combines exercise and walking and is actually a $10 decrease in the annual fee for walkers who previously paid $35 per year. The $25 fee will allow senior to walk in the gym, which us heated in the winter and air conditioned in the summer, along with attending any of the three senior exercise classes.

Margaret Nowling, who leads the Monday and Thursday senior exercise classes, asked whether the board had received a letter she had submitted concerning applying to the Bethany Legacy Foundation (BLF) to see if that organization would fund the senior programs.

Krebs said the letter had been received and the board was willing to give the seniors time to pursue funding from BLF. "We're OK with putting off when you pay that, but we wanted to establish the fees and be done with that," Krebs told Nowling. "Proceed as you were, and we'll hold off until you get official word back before anyone is expected to pay anything."

In other business the board:

• Renamed the city of Madison campground to Riverview Campground. Parks Director Matt Woolard said the name change follows investments that have been made to improve the campground. "We felt it was prudent timing to now create an identity for it," he said.

• Approved a lease agreement with the Jefferson County Soccer Association to use Rucker Sports Complex for its soccer program for 2023 from April 1 to Oct. 31. Payments will be in two installments — the first $1,000 due by May 1 with a $100 penalty if late and the second $2,000 due by Sept. 1 with a $200 penalty if late. Woolard said those costs have remained unchanged since 2020.

"Soccer is not a sport that we offer because Jefferson County does such a good job with their program, there's no need for us to impede on their progress," said Woolard. The parks department mows and maintains the soccer fields and covers all insurance liability.

• Woolard said Chad Ison's last day with the parks department was Feb. 3 after he accepted a job with the NCAA in Indianapolis. Ison, hired as program coordinator for the parks in June of 2021, had been promoted to deputy parks director on Jan. 31, 2022. "We were very proud of the work Chad accomplished with the parks department," Woolard said. "We just want to continue to build off his momentum."

Woolard said steps have been taken with Ison's departure to "have no lapse in terms of programming, communication or effort."

• Woolard reported that $4,000 was raised through the Great Cookie Caper during the Nights Before Christmas Candlelight Tour of Homes with the funds donated to provide sun shades for the playground equipment at Hargan Matthews Park.

• Woolard reported that a donation of $3,500 was made in memory of Clifford "Burch" Johnson for Rucker Sports Complex. Johnson, who died Oct. 10, 2022, was instrumental in the development of Rucker Sports Complex and one of the fields is named in his honor. The complex, dedicated April 28, 1983, was for former Madison Mayor Warren R. Rucker.

• Elected the board's officers for 2023 with Krebs continuing as president and Phil Kahn once again serving as vice president.

Six Questions to Ask Your Retirement Professional

Preparing for a Successful Retirement Strategy

By Stephen Dybwad
Retirement Planning/
Wealth Management

Preparing for a first meeting with a retirement professional can be intimidating, especially if you are a new or prospective client. The adviser will get the conversation going and ensure it is directed in the right way to have a good understanding of your financial situation and goals for the future to create an effective retirement strategy. To help you build the best approach, here are six questions that your financial adviser should be asking:

1. What? Your adviser should understand what assets you own and what debt you are carrying. It is also important to discuss how you are managing your debt regarding retirement planning. This is especially true if you still have a mortgage. Additionally, your adviser should be aware of any other income streams you will have in retirement, such as Social Security, a pension, or other qualified funds.

2. Why? It is common for people who are close to retirement to have a variety of investments that have accumulated over time. If you have assets that do not have a purpose and are not helping you reach your goals, consider switching them.

3. How? When you initially began investing, your objective was to grow your money and accumulate as much as possible. As you approach retirement, the focus shifts to distribution, finding products that can provide the income you will need to replace your paycheck, and preservation, looking for ways to reduce the risk in your portfolio.

4. When? When you retire, you will likely have multiple sources of income, such as Social Security, a pension, and your retirement savings. The order in which you start using these income streams may affect the money you receive over your lifetime and the taxes you pay every year. This takes planning not only with the assets you own but the tax liability they may create when accessed,

5. How much? It is essential to have a general budget of what you expect to spend in retirement and how that compares to your income. Consider any new interests you might pursue, such as buying an RV or any lifestyle changes you plan to make.

6. What are you missing? Your adviser should help you find the right strategies to deal with future risks such as market volatility, inflation, or higher taxes. Even if you have a good retirement strategy, you should consider legacy and long-term care planning.

Your adviser may only cover some of these topics in your first meeting, but they should be discussed as you build your retirement strategy. Be bold and ask questions or bring up any concerns. Ultimately, the goal is to create an effective retirement strategy that works for you and your needs. Call today if you have questions that need to be asked or answered.

Southwestern's DeAtley picks Franklin for baseball

BY DAVID CAMPBELL

There were a lot of reasons why Jordan DeAtley picked Franklin College to help him further his baseball career. Equally happy with all of the final schools on his list, the Southwestern High School star was just looking for the one that he could best afford.

"It really came down to financials," DeAtley said at a signing ceremony at the school last week. "I was between DePauw, Franklin and Hanover. DePauw is a little more expensive and Hanover is closer to DePauw. I just sort of came down to financials. I would have been happy to go into any of those schools."

And any of three schools would have been thrilled to land DeAtley, a two-way player who has been one of the main cogs on a Southwestern team that has been among the region's best the past two years.

Known primarily as a pitcher, DeAtley is also an accomplished hitter and Southwestern coach Dan Thurston is confident that he can excel at both at the next level.

"When your best player comes in and starts picking up the work, everybody looks and watches. It says everything about him as a player," said Thurston. "The hardest workers are the ones that are successful, it doesn't matter what level it is. He's gonna go up there and put the work in and I have a feeling that he's the kind of kid who could pull it off."

Nowhere was DeAtley's work ethic more on display than in the sectional tournament last spring. The Rebels entered as the tourney favorites but after rainouts found themselves in the unusual position of having to play essentially three games in one day.

Southwestern senior Jordan DeAtley has signed to play baseball at Franklin College this fall. The Rebel hurler was 7-2 with a 1.96 ERA last year and also hit .393 at the plate. He hopes to both pitch and be a position player for the Grizzlies.

DeAtley maxed out his innings on the mound and left the championship game with a no-hitter in the sixth inning, before injuries and lack of pitchers doomed the Rebels to a loss. That loss still haunts him nearly a year later.

"I have some goals. I want to hit maybe five home runs and just continue to make my average better. But I just want to win a sectional. That's the big goal," DeAtley said. "I know we got some good teams in our sectional with Austin and Brownstown, but we've got the team to do it. That's the goal."

Trying to improve on a fantastic junior season will be difficult for DeAtley, who did a little bit of everything. He was 7-2 on the mound with a 1.96 ERA with 90 strikeouts and 26 walks in 64.3 innings. He also hit .393 at the plate with two home runs, 14 RBIs and scored 40 runs.

DeAtley knows that both pitching and playing the field will be difficult in college but he wants to give it a shot.

"They recruited me as a two-way guy, but I've heard it's harder in college to be a two-way guy because it's more time. And you don't have much time with classes and that sort of thing," DeAtley said.

Time management is always the most difficult thing for college players to learn, said Thurston.

"Whether it's baseball at Franklin or basketball at Duke, the time constraints are just amazingly difficult. I know Jordan is a great student in the classroom, so to keep up his standard in the classroom and to be able to participate is going to be the hardest thing," said Thurston, who played college baseball at Hanover College. "Time management is the first thing you have to learn. From a baseball standpoint, that next step up is getting used to the speed. Everything gets a little faster, all the players are a little bit bigger, a little quicker, a little stronger. So just making that adjustment, not only physically, but also adjusting to the competition being a little bit better, is the biggest thing."

DeAtley plans on majoring in business and finance in college but he still has some work to do in high school. Preseason practice for the upcoming season is about a month away and he can't wait to hit the field for his final campaign.

"I think we're going to be pretty good this year. We have a lot coming back," DeAtley said. "It's going to be fun."

Hanover men blow away Franklin 98-62 to move into 2nd place

BY JORDAN BEAR

Hanover took advantage of an electric atmosphere to blow out rival Franklin 98-62 in men's basketball on Wednesday.

Collier Arena was packed and provided the spark the Panthers needed to knock off their rival. Hanover rolled out to a big lead and never looked back while securing second place in the Heartland Collegiate Athletic Conference standings just one game back with three games to play.

"The atmosphere in this gym tonight was incredible, one of the best I've ever seen in my time here," said Hanover Associate Head Coach Ryan Nowicki, who also played for the Panthers. "We can't thank the football and baseball teams enough for showing the spirit they did tonight. Not to mention the sororities that came as well. It was an incredible night and it helped us with our play on the court."

Hanover knew they had to come out strong against a Grizzlies team that has had Hanover's number recently after two-straight wins, including a matchup at Franklin earlier this year.

But the Panthers were never threatened on Wednesday with Jack Winninger and Brice Gilman each hitting quick buckets to open the contest and Hanover pulling away from there. Hanover led 50-35 at halftime, extended its lead to 20 early in the second half and Franklin never got close as the Panthers cruised to the easy win.

Gilman had a huge game for the Panthers, scoring a career-high 35 points, including going 9-for-11 from behind the 3-point arc. Hanover, as a team, hit 19 3-pointers overall.

Nowicki said Gilman has gotten better and better as the season has progressed.

"Brice is so good at getting to the basket and making everyone better around him," Nowicki said. "This is his first year starting for us, and he's gotten better throughout the entire year. He was incredible tonight, and we rode his game to the very end. I'm proud of him for stepping up in such a big game."

Hanover also got 18 points from Max Greenamoyer and a double-double of 16 points and 10 rebounds from Winninger.

Franklin was led by Jacob Deere with 15 points, Lynn King had 14 and Ryan Bostic scored 11. Former Madison Cub Jackson Falconberry saw brief action for Franklin and had one rebound and former South Ripley player Cody Samples started at guard and scored four.

Chloe Preocanin

Hanover's Matt Munoz (33) goes to the basket against Franklin's Lynn King during Wednesday's game at Collier Arena. Munoz scored eight points in the Panthers' 98-62 win.

Hanover, now 15-7 overall and 11-4 in the HCAC with the win, pulled into a second-place tie with Manchester just one game back of league leader Anderson. Manchester lost to Rose-Hulman on Wednesday to set up a monster game between the Spartans and Panthers on Saturday at Manchester.

Hanover will attempt to avenge a home loss to Manchester last month and move into sole possession of second place.

"The last time we played them, we played well for 30 minutes, but unfortunately the last 10 minutes doomed us and they got one on us," Nowicki said. "Hopefully we can remedy that on Saturday and get in good position heading into the final week of the season."

WOMEN BEAT FRANKLIN

Hanover outscored Franklin 20-7 in the fourth quarter to pull out a 65-54 win in women's basketball Wednesday on the road.

The Panthers led 14-11 after the first quarter but found themselves

Swimmers wrap up regular season

BY THE COURIER STAFF

Madison's boys swim team closed out the regular season with a win in the Charlestown Invitational on Tuesday.

The Cubs didn't swim to their normally lofty expectations, but they still posted nine wins on the night.

"While not necessarily directly reflected in times, some of our swims were just off. Little things that we are working to fine-tune this week," Madison coach Ashley Schutte said. "This is a new meet for us against a number of our sectional teams, is midway through our taper, and is the perfect time to learn a few things and get focused before sectionals next week."

Winners for Madison were: Kyle Roney, 200 free, 2:00.05; Camdyn Sever, 50 free, 23.12 and 100 breast, 1:07.65; Graham Klein, 100 fly, 58.52; Trenton Schafer, 500 free, 6:17.68; Peyton Ford, 100 back, 1:02.35; Ford, Sever, Max Thompson and Gavin McMahon, 200 medley relay, 1:48.83; Ford, Roney, McMahon and Sever, 200 free relay, 1:39.02; and Roney, Klein, Beckam Cornelius and Thompson, 400 free relay, 3:59.67.

Ford also placed second in the 50 free in 23.75, Thompson was second in the 100 fly in 1:00.30 and third in the 100 breast in 1:12.45, and McMahon was third in the 50 free and 100 free.

Madison's boys will next compete in the IHSAA Sectionals at Highland Hills Middle School near Floyd Central. The preliminaries are on Thursday, Feb. 16 with the finals set for Saturday, Feb. 18.

Smith leads No. 1 Purdue past Iowa

BY MARK AMBROGI

WEST LAFAYETTE — Braden Smith scored a career-high 24 points to lead No. 1 Purdue to an 87-73 victory over Iowa on Thursday night.

Smith, a freshman guard, shot 8 of 10 — including 4 of 5 from 3-point range. Zach Edey scored 14 points on 4-of-7 shooting. Edey, who was averaging 22.4 points entering the game, had just four points until the final 8 1/2 minutes. Edey grabbed a team-high 14 rebounds, and Caleb Furst added 10 rebounds as Purdue held a 43-23 edge.

Fletcher Loyer scored 17 points, Furst 11 and Mason Gillis 10 for the Boilermakers (23-2, 12-2 Big Ten).

Kris Murray led Iowa with 24 points on 10-of-16 shooting, and Filip Rebraca had 17 for the Hawkeyes (15-9, 7-6).

The Boilermakers led by as many as 21 points early in the second half. Purdue was ahead 68-51 when the Hawkeyes went on a 13-2 spurt to close the deficit to 70-64 with 5:39 remaining.

Edey, who had been quiet most of the game, sank a hook shot and made a dunk to give Purdue a 74-64 edge.

Purdue took a 38-21 lead at halftime on Smith's jumper with 3 seconds left. Smith led Purdue with 10 points in the first half. The Boilermakers took the lead at 4-2 on a basket by Loyer and led the rest of the game.

Purdue shot 44% in the first half while holding Iowa to 29%. For the game, Purdue shot 55%, while Iowa shot 45%

BIG PICTURE

Iowa: After being dominated for the first 30 minutes, the Hawkeyes woke up offensively and got as close as six points. Iowa is seeking to lock up an NCAA Tournament bid with a strong finish in the final six Big Ten regular-season games.

Purdue: The Boilermakers rebounded from its loss at Indiana with a dominating performance for most of the game, holding Iowa to a mere 21 points in the first half. The Hawkeyes were averaging 81.5 points per game.

POLL IMPLICATIONS

The Boilermakers stayed on course to remain No. 1 with an easy home victory with a game Sunday at Northwestern.

Adebayo's 38 powers Heat past Pacers

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

MIAMI — Bam Adebayo entered this season wanting more shots. The Miami Heat gave him those opportunities, and are thrilled at how it's working out.

Miami's All-Star center out of Kentucky, tied his season high with 38 points, Jimmy Butler added 25 and the Heat held off the Indiana Pacers 116-111 on Wednesday night to snap a two-game slide. Adebayo was 12 of 16 from the field, 14 of 14 from the foul line.

"Bam, obviously, was really good on both ends of the court," Heat coach Erik Spoelstra said.

Gabe Vincent had 17, Tyler Herro scored 15 and Caleb Martin finished with 12 points and 11 rebounds for the Heat, who snapped a two-game slide.

Buddy Hield scored 29 points for Indiana, which has lost 13 of its last 15 games. Myles Turner had 23 points and 11 rebounds, while T.J. McConnell scored 18.

Tyrese Haliburton had 10 assists for the Pacers, but a Heat defense led by Butler held him to 11 points — 32 fewer than he scored in a win at Miami on Dec. 23. His 3-pointer with 10.5 seconds left got Indiana within three, but Adebayo sealed it with a pair of free throws.

"Miami has a deserved, an earned reputation as a hard-playing team, a team that always responds to previous losses," Pacers coach Rick Carlisle said.

The Heat and Pacers split the four-game regular-season series. The combined score of the season series entering Wednesday was Pacers 294, Heat 294; now, it's Heat 410, Pacers 405, none of the games this season decided by more than five points.

Guardians trade OF Benson to Reds for Boyd

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

CLEVELAND — The Cleveland Guardians traded outfielder Will Benson to the Cincinnati Reds on Wednesday for outfielder Justin Boyd.

The defending AL Central champions also will get a player to be named from the Reds in the swap.

Cincinnati drafted Boyd in the second round last year out of Oregon State. He led the Pac-12 with a .373 batting average and 24 steals in 2022. The 21-year-old batted .203 in 73 at-bats for Class-A Daytona.

The 6-foot-5 Benson spent 28 games with the Guardians last season, batting .182 with three RBIs in 28 games. The 24-year-old struggled at the plate, striking out 19 times in just 55 at-bats.

Benson was once considered one of Cleveland's top outfield prospects, but has since been surpassed by Steven Kwan, Oscar Gonzalez and Will Brennan.

down 31-28 at halfime and 47-45 after three quarters. Hanover then dominated the fourth period to pull away and improve to 11-2 in HCAC play.

Grace Bezold had 20 points and six rebounds to lead Hanover while Taylor Heath had 14 points and four assists, and Katherine Benter had 12 points. Anna Bauer had a huge game for the Panthers, with eight points, 13 rebounds and four assists.

Maddie Barnes scored 13 to lead Franklin and Taylor Cooney had 11. Former Milan player Cici Bailey scored five points before fouling out.

Hanover, now 14-6 overall, travels to Manchester on Saturday and then hosts unbeaten and NCAA Division III second-ranked Transylvania (22-0, 15-0) on Tuesday.

Today's Puzzle Solved

Frequent traveler is not clear on cutting

AMY DICKINSON ASK AMY

Dear Amy: I travel by air for work relatively often and have TSA Pre-check to get through security faster.

My regional airport allows Clear to operate there, and I find myself getting angry every time a Clear employee escorts someone in front of me in line without acknowledging my presence, asking my permission, or apologizing for "cutting" in front of me.

I've been trying to think of a clever and direct way to preemptively signal that I'm not OK with them walking in front of me.

I've even looked online to see if this is something I need to accept, but haven't found anything. Any thoughts? — Silently Simmering

Dear Simmering: Clear is a private company that operates in airports, using biometrics (iris scan and fingerprints) to expedite passage through airport security lines. I note on the company's website that they offer human "ambassadors" to escort paid users to the front of security lines — that's the "cutting" you've experienced.

Just as you have paid extra to join the TSA Pre-check queue (allowing you to bypass many of the security checks other passengers tolerate), cutting the line seems to be the privilege these customers are purchasing.

The experience of being pre-empted by others is one of many at airports these days that passengers are not "OK" with.

An "ambassador" should make eye contact with you and say something like: "Excuse me — I'm escorting this Clear customer through the expedited line. Thank you for your patience."

Friend worries about delaying adoption disclosure

AMY DICKINSON ASK AMY

Dear Amy: Our good friends, a married couple, have one child. He is a son they adopted who is about to turn 10 years old.

Just a few days ago, the mother mentioned her son still "has no clue" that he is an adoptee.

Years ago, the father said something to us about telling him when he is in high school.

At that time I balked pretty vehemently, responding that current wisdom advocates telling adoptees basically from the beginning about their origins.

He shut me down hard, so I let it go.

As each year passes, my anxiety for them grows and I worry about the consequences for when this bombshell inevitably detonates in their family.

I know it is extremely not my business but yikes – any advice beyond keeping my mouth shut?

They are doting parents and the boy is very loved. – Nervous Bystander

Dear Nervous: I shared your question with Ashley Fetters Maloy, an adoptee and reporter at the Washington Post, who wrote about this issue for a story published by The Atlantic.

Here is her response:

"You're right that current wisdom (and now some research!) supports the idea that adoptees should know early about their adoptions.

"You're also right to be concerned about the potential damage to the parent-child relationship if the child's adoption isn't discussed openly early in the child's life.

"By the time a child is five or six, he's already made assumptions, or even asked his parents to tell him stories, about the day he was born or what his mother's pregnancy was like.

ASTROLOGY

ARIES (March 21-April 19) — Going along with the crowd can be fun. You might be at your best in group gatherings or community events right now. However, keep a tight grip on your money because you may be tempted to go to extremes.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) — Jealousy can be aroused by insecurity. If you aren't feeling secure, ask yourself if it's due to the other person's actions or lack thereof, or if you have an inner wound that needs healing. Learn from your romantic history.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) — Get more clarity. Communication may need to be refined within a new relationship before you can learn how to avoid misunderstandings. Be patient, give it time and give someone the benefit of the doubt.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) — Paint a detailed picture in your mind of ideal situations. Remain focused on career goals as well as deeper inspirations. Spend time with friends or acquaintances engaged in activities that offer mutual enjoyment and benefits.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) — Wait for the right moment. You may need extra preparation and organization before launching something new. Emotional issues can cloud your judgment or blind you to the truth about a newly formed relationship.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) — Even entertaining activities can teach something of value if you have the right mindset and are open to learning something new. Look at the consequences of previous decisions to understand the best way forward.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22) — You and a sweetheart could be somewhat out of tune this evening, so hanging out with friends might be a better alternative after tasks are handled. Optimism and friendly concern can pave the way for a better relationship.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21) — Don't oversell yourself and don't be pushed to agree. Avoid a situation that can hurt someone's feelings or create unnecessary expenses. Something that does not make sense from a financial viewpoint might seem challenging.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21) — Build team spirit by being enthusiastic and upbeat. Your enthusiasm can be contagious and inspire other people to want to join your team. Working together, more can get done and you'll have more fun, too.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) — What you don't know might actually help you now. If You aren't content to remain on the outside, uncovering insider information may not end up being beneficial and could alienate someone or turn them off.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) — Await further instructions. You may only be able to see the surface of a complicated issue. The more answers you receive, the more questions you may have. Listen to someone with your best interests at heart.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20) — Trust your intuition as well as your friends. If you demonstrate a willingness to cooperate you can bring conflicting factions into line. This is a time to display your idealism and live up to your highest ideals.

ASTROLOGY

ARIES (March 21-April 19) — You cannot get by solely on your looks and charm. Honesty, sincerity and getting results will always win the most lasting respect, trust and even love. Minor disagreements can throw you off your stride.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) — Everyone deserves unconditional love and affection but it can be hard to offer in the real world. You may find it frustrating to deal with authority figures. Resolve and learn from a past mistake before you try to begin a new project or venture.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) — Think carefully before you speak. Use your kindest words and most caring actions to keep precious relationships alive and well. Arguments and disputes can fade into the background when confronted by understanding.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) — An educated guess may not be enough; you'll need to be precise and accurate when dealing with finances or when asked an important question. Don't be in such a hurry that you are inconsiderate of other people's feelings.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) — Take some quiet time for reflection and a reboot. Sustainable success depends on self-discipline, not self-sacrifice. Other people may expect you to live up to high standards so give everything your best effort.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) — It's on you to do what is needed to build up your inner peace and serenity. Loved ones will likely do their part and you should be able to count on them to be there through thick and thin. Demonstrate your work ethic and efficiency.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22) — Some gentle jokes or silly stories can make a dull situation more fun. Take a nature break if weather permits by walking outside and appreciating natural beauty. Or, break bread with a friend or a cool co-worker.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21) — Look at any criticism carefully and take on board anything you can learn from, without shaming yourself. No shame, learn the lesson, move on. Take your responsibilities and obligations seriously.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21) — Present someone with examples of your trustworthiness if needed to counteract blatant skepticism. Get to it job early and be sure to meet deadlines on time. Someone could be impatient and unyielding.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) — Learning to share your possessions with someone else might be the most challenging task on your plate. A loved one or partner may be able to encourage you with logic and demonstrations of generosity.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) — Gather experience; every error can teach you how to do better. If you're not confident of your worth, you'll struggle to prove your value to others. Do not volunteer to take on new duties or obligations.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20) — Going with the flow is a better strategy than trying to push again non-receptive people or situations now. Let the universe lead you toward the future. If you remain patient, you can enjoy peace as well as luck.

Super Bowl features rare matchup of top 2 teams

BY JOSH DUBOW
AP PRO FOOTBALL WRITER

This year's Super Bowl features a rare matchup of the NFL's top two teams from the regular season.

The Philadelphia Eagles and Kansas City Chiefs were the league's only 14-game winners, marking just the sixth time since the 1970 merger that the squads with sole possession of the two best records in the regular season met for the championship.

The last time it happened came after the 2013 season when Seattle beat Denver 43-8 in a matchup of 13-win teams.

That blowout was relatively typical of these meetings, with the average margin of victory in the previous five powerhouse matchups being 21 points.

The closest game was Washington's 37-24 win over Buffalo following the 1991 season. The three others featured San Francisco beating Miami 38-16 after the 1984 season, Dallas topping Denver 27-10 to cap the 1977 season and Oakland beating Minnesota 32-14 the previous year.

Since seeding began in 1975, this is the 15th time the top team in each conference made it to the Super Bowl. The previous time came after the 2017 season when the Eagles won their first Super Bowl championship by beating New England 41-33.

This is also the third time both Super Bowl teams won at least 14 games in the regular season, although both Kansas City and Philadelphia needed wins in the added 17th game to get there. Atlanta and Denver did it in 16-game seasons in 1998, and Miami and San Francisco in 1984.

The Chiefs and Eagles also have been in control all postseason, with neither team trailing in the playoffs. The only other times both Super Bowl teams did that came in the 2004 season (Patriots vs. Eagles), 1991 season (Bills vs. Washington) and 1966 season (Packers vs. Chiefs).

Patrick Mahomes will try to do something that has never been done before in the NFL by following up a regular season when he led the league in yards passing with a Super Bowl title.

Mahomes threw for 5,250 yards during the regular season — 511 more than second-place Justin Herbert for the largest gap between first and second place since Kurt Warner beat out Peyton Manning by 699 yards in 2001.

The only player to reach the Super Bowl after throwing for more yards in the regular season than Mahomes was Manning, with a record 5,477 in 2013. His Broncos lost 43-8 to Seattle in the Super Bowl.

That was one of six times before Mahomes that the player who led the league in yards passing made it to the Super Bowl, with all of them losing. The others were Tom Brady (2017 season), Brady (2007), Rich Gannon (2002), Warner (2001) and Dan Marino (1984).

Chiefs coach Andy Reid joins Dan Reeves as the only coaches to face a franchise in the Super Bowl that they previously took to the big game.

Reid coached the Eagles to their second Super Bowl following the 2004 season before getting fired after the 2012 season. He quickly built Kansas City into a power and now is ready for his fourth Super Bowl appearance as a head coach — the ninth coach to reach that mark.

Reid will hope for better luck in his rematch than Reeves had after the 1998 season against a Denver organization he had guided to the Super Bowl in the 1986, '87 and '89 seasons before losing all three. The Broncos beat Reeves and the Atlanta Falcons 34-19 in the Super Bowl.

Two other coaches faced their former teams in the Super Bowl and ended up on the winning side: Jon Gruden led Tampa Bay past the Raiders after the 2002 season and Weeb Ewbank coached the Jets to a huge upset over the Colts following the 1968 season.

The Eagles will be the sixth franchise to reach the Super Bowl under four coaches, with Nick Sirianni joining Doug Pederson, Reid and Dick Vermeil.

The Raiders, 49ers, Colts and Rams all got there with four coaches, and the Broncos did it with a record five.

Chiefs tight end Travis Kelce has put together a playoff career topped perhaps only by the greatest receiver ever in Jerry Rice.

Kelce has 127 catches in 17 career playoff games for 1,467 yards and 15 touchdowns. The only player to top any of those numbers was Rice, with 151 catches for 2,245 yards and 22 TDs in 29 playoff games.

The Mahomes-Kelce connection also is one of the best, with their 13 TD passes in the playoffs trailing only the 15 Tom Brady threw to Rob Gronkowski.

COURIER AREA SPORTS SHORTS

• Several local athletes have been named to the Ohio River Valley Conference girls basketball all-conference team by league coaches.

Shawe, which won its first ORVC title since 1994, had three players named to the team: Sophomores Allison Knoebel and Ava Turner and freshman Audrey Barron. In addition, the Hilltoppers' Drew Kring was named co-coach of the year along with South Ripley's Matt McNew.

Southwestern junior Ashley Fulton and sophomore Claudia Oliver were named to the team and senior Emma Long, who missed virtually the entire season with a knee injury, was named the Mental Attitude Award winner.

Switzerland County juniors Courtney Higgins and Bri Stow were also named to the team.

• Two former Madison Lady Cubs had strong performances for their college basketball teams on Wednesday.

Jade Nutley, a 2021 Madison grad, had 21 points, four rebounds and two assists in Indiana Wesleyan's 90-56 win over Taylor University.

Taylor Lynch, a 2022 Madison graduate, scored five points and had four steals, two assists and two rebounds in the Coast Guard Academy's 79-50 win over Wheaton.

• Shawe Junior High's seventh-grade girls basketball team lost 19-16 at Milan on Wednesday.

Jackson-Davis leads No. 18 Indiana past No. 24 Rutgers 66-60

BY MICHAEL MAROT
ASSOCIATED PRESS

BLOOMINGTON — The milestone moments keep piling up for Trayce Jackson-Davis.

Only one really mattered Tuesday night.

While he scored 20 points to become the sixth player in Hoosiers' history with 2,000 and the first among that group with 1,000 career rebounds, the most satisfying celebration came after No. 18 Indiana beat No. 24 Rutgers 66-60 — Jackson-Davis' first win in the series.

"I think that's the last team in the Big Ten I hadn't beaten," Jackson-Davis said after finishing with 18 rebounds and six assists.

Jackson-Davis now has 2,004 points, 1,035 rebounds, a school-record 242 blocks and ranks fourth all-time with 44 double-doubles after breaking a tie with Steve Downing.

After helping the Hoosiers snap a five-year NCAA Tournament drought last season and falling out of the rankings after three straight January losses, Jackson-Davis has almost single-handedly led the Hoosiers (17-7, 8-5 Big Ten) into a second-place tie by winning seven of eight.

And his dominance is starting to open things up for his teammate. Or perhaps it's the other way around.

The Scarlet Knights (16-8, 8-5) had won six straight over Indiana, including a 15-point blowout in December.

This time, though, they spent most of the game playing catchup. Clifford Omoruyi had 15 points, Cam Spencer had 14 and nobody else made more than three baskets.

The Hoosiers started fast and then scored 12 straight points to take a 30-14 lead midway through the first half but even without injured starting forward Mawot Mag, Rutgers charged back. It closed the first half on an 11-2 run, then tied it at 38 when Spencer opened the second half with a 3-pointer.

Miller Kopp, who scored 18 points, broke the tie with his third 3 of the game to start an 11-0 run and Jackson-Davis' monumental basket, a putback dunk off his own miss, made it 54-44 with 11:13 to go.

The Scarlet Knights could have tied it on Caleb McConnell's 3 with 3:02 left, but it bounced off the back of the rim and the Hoosiers closed Jackson-Davis' big win with a 7-2 spurt.

Indiana heads to Michigan on Saturday (TV: Live on ESPN at 6 p.m.).

Bank of Milton
Christmas is over, time to think about your taxes.
It's not too late to make your maximum allowed Individual Retirement Account contribution. When you do, you can deduct the contribution from your reportable income and delay paying taxes until you are in a lower tax bracket. PLUS when you retire, you'll have accumulated a nice little nest-egg for your golden years.
